Our Mission

We provide scholarships to underserved children to change lives, serve society, and transform culture.

Arizona's Low Income and Disabled/Displaced tax credits empower corporations to choose how their tax dollars are spent and greatly impact Catholic schools. Corporations can direct their Arizona tax liability to the General Scholarship Fund (serving schools with highest need) or the school(s) of your choice.

This opportunity is available to nearly every type and size of company from insurance, to landscapers, to restaurants. There are many recognizable brands that are known and trusted who choose to redirect their tax credit to help educate the future workforce. Join the business leaders who are making a real difference in the lives of Arizona's underserved children!

"At CCMC, we believe strongly in giving back to enhance the lives of those living in and around the communities we serve. In 2017, we formalized these efforts and created our HomeWorks charitable giving program. Our giving strategy prioritizes partnerships with organizations that are important to our employees and support local education. CEA was an excellent fit for both!"

- D.J. Cole, Chairman, CCMC

"Every child deserves access to quality education regardless of their family's financial situation. Partnering with CEA allows us to do our part in helping other families access this education regardless of the size of their bank account."

"I believe a Catholic education is one of the best you can receive. The learning experience is well rounded – academic studies, life studies, and spiritual studies. Catholic schools promote good citizenship and help give the students a good moral compass. I am a product of the Catholic education system and really appreciate all it gave to me."

Testimonials

"I think it really, truly changes the lives of those who have the opportunity to attend a Catholic school. Not only for the high-quality education that they'll receive, but also for the spirit of community and the importance that is placed on service."

"You may not be able to measure what the impact is when you see a lot of these students [that are] possibly the first ones in their family to go on to college. As you know, virtually all the students that are helped by CEA end up going to college and if not, attend trade school or serve in the military. They come back and end up in our communities, right? They bring that spirit of service and leadership with them."

"I think there's a real opportunity from a business perspective, and as a contributor through the corporate tax credits, we feel, especially as an Arizona company headquartered here, an obligation to give back to the community."

"I think as corporate citizens, we want to be able to be a part of that process, and I think there's probably more companies out there that feel the same way."

- D.J. Cole, Chairman, CCMC

Catholic Education Arizona is an IRS 501(c)(3) nonprofit charitable organization and has never accepted gifts designated for individuals. Per state law, a school tuition organization cannot award, restrict or reserve scholarships solely on the basis of donor recommendation. A taxpayer may not claim a tax credit if the taxpayer agrees to swap donations with another taxpayer to benefit either taxpayer's own dependent.
